VOL. XXVII HAMILTON COLLEGE, CLINTON, N. Y., TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1925. NO. 14.

THETA DELTS PLAN TO MOVE ABOUT FEB. 1

New Fraternity House is Now Complete Except for Electric Fixtures and Kitchen Equipment

CLINTON LIMESTONE USED

Alexander Woollcott Gives Grand Piano

With the exception of electric fixtures and kitchen equipment, the new Theta Delta Chi house on the northeast corner of the campus, is completed, and the local Charge expects to move in the first part of February. The architects are Bagg and Newkirk of Utica.

To correspond with the other college buildings, native stone, Clinton Lime, has been used for the exterior construction. The roof is of slate. The east elevation has a 45 by 15 foot veranda, surrounded by an iron balustrade, and commanding an unobstructed view of the Oriskany Valley and the Adirondack foothills.

The first floor is divided into a hall, living room, library, and dining room. The living room, 45 by 50 feet, comprising the south wing of the house, is well lighted, having windows on the south and west sides and French doors opening on the porch on the east. The walls, of rough plaster, are tinted brown. On each side of the large open fireplace at the end of the room are bay windows with deep window seats.

Library Attractive

One of the most delightful rooms in the house is the library which occupies the northwest corner. Here, opposite a large bay window with a long window seat are built-in bookcases with shelves for a large collection of fraternity volumes. Between these cases is an attractive fireplace of white stone. The oak woodwork and walls in this room are finished to harmonize with the hall and living room. The dining room, directly behind the library, is done in white pine, painted a light green with a delicate orange stripe. This color scheme, augmented by large windows on two sides and a French door opening on the porch on the third, makes the room especially attractive.

Nine Second Floor Rooms

On the second floor are nine well-lighted rooms for studies and dormitories. Built-in chiffoniers are part of the equipment. Southern pine composes the floors and woodwork. In the basement is a large card and billiard-room with an open fireplace fronted with Clinton Limestone. The house being on a slope, the east elevation of the basement is above ground, so that the servants' quarters, which are on that side, are well lighted. Their apartment includes a living room, two bedrooms, and a bath. The rest of the basement is divided into kitchen, boiler rooms, and store rooms.

New furniture for the house has arrived and is being unpacked. Alexander Woollcott, '09, has presented the Charge with a baby grand piano, with a walnut case, finished to match the decorative scheme of the living room.

HOCKEY TEAM WILL PLAY BOSTON TECH. SATURDAY

The hockey team will meet the Massachusetts Institute of Technology skaters next Saturday on the Russell Sage rink. M. I. T. has never been on Hamilton's hockey schedule before.

This year they have played Boston University and the Army. They outplayed Boston, although held to a tie. Last Saturday in their game with the Army, which ended in a 1 to 1 tie, Randall, the left wing, made the single goal. Boston Tech has the advantage of frequent practice with the many professional teams around Boston, but if Mr. Prettyman's men continue to play as they did last Friday, the visitors will have to fight for their lives.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club was organized for 1925 at a meet held last Thursday evening at the home of Professor Chase. Officers were elected as follows: President, John Gualtieri; vice-president, John Toaz; secretary and treasurer, John Chase. A course of study was outlined for the coming term. It was decided to consider the beginnings of Rome, following the book, "Eternal Rome", by Showerman, formerly a professor at the American Academy at Rome, and "Eternal Rome" is said to be a powerful work. About 20 men were present.

SOLAR ECLIPSE WILL DARKEN THE HILL

Men taking the examinations in French 3 and French 2 next Saturday morning will have to work in partial darkness. The Hill is not in the path of totality of the solar eclipse, but the partial darkening will be enough to make artificial light necessary. At 8 o'clock the obscurity will begin, reaching its nearest to totality a few minutes after nine, and gradually brightening until 10 o'clock. The path of total eclipse includes Buffalo, Warsaw, Hornell, Ithaca and Central Park in New York.

HOCKEY TEAM BEATS MASS. AGGIES, 5-0

Captain Thompson Leads in the Scoring—Prettyman Puts in Substitutes

In a game featured by brilliant playing on the part of the Buff and Blue skaters, Hamilton handed the Massachusetts Agricultural College the short end of a 5 to 0 score here last Friday evening. Prettyman's puck-chasers showed easily the best form of the season in chalking up their third victory.

Hamilton was on the offensive during most of the contest. The visitors' attempts to score were few and the Hamilton defense was easily able to stop the parries launched against it. The Aggies made considerable trouble by throwing their defense deep in the Hamilton territory. On several occasions the forward line experienced difficulty in bringing the puck out from behind the losers' cage, due to this deep defense.

Russ Thompson led in the scoring with a pair of goals. Sarcka, H. Valentine, and Yates accounted for the remaining points. Crosby, who scored the Aggies' lone point against Yale earlier in the week, and Potter put up fine exhibitions of hockey. The Hamilton goal guards kept up their record of not having been scored on in a home game this season.

The game started out at a fast clip and after a few minutes of aggressive play, the locals took the lead when Thompson counted for the only other score of the period. Russ had hard luck on a couple of other shots that looked like sure markers. Although the New Englanders remained on defense most of the time, their forwards carried the puck down the ice on several brilliant thrusts at the Hamilton goal.

Prettyman started his whole squad of substitutes in the second period. The second string men held their own and neither squad was able to score. The tide turned with the return of the regulars, however, and Hamilton tallied twice. Harve Valentine broke into the scoring column when he picked one out of a desperate scrimmage in front of the losers' cage. Yates repeated near the end of the period with a beauty from near the boards. Only on a few occasions did the Aggies penetrate as far as the Hamilton secondary in this period.

The shock troops were again started in the final session, but were once more unable to score. The first team pushed the total up to five when Sarcka slipped a long one through and Thompson counted for the second time.

Lineup and summary:

HAMILTON 5		AGGIES 0
	left wing
Yates		Potter
	right wing
Sarcka		Taylor
	center
Thompson		Mogberg
	left defense
H. Valentine		Gordon
	right defense
Johnson		Crosby
	goal
Stanley		Palmer

Substitutions: Hamilton: McLean, Van Vleet, Mann, Brown, J. Valentine, Fuess. Scoring: Hamilton: Sarska, H. Valentine, Yates, Thompson 2. Referees: Kernan, Harvard; DeAngelis, Dartmouth. Time of thirds, 20 minutes.

—Joel D. Hutner, '03, is head of the Alumni Association of Chicago.

—Prof. Benjamin D. Meritt, '20, an instructor at Brown University, spoke before the American Philological Society during the Christmas recess.

—James M. Lown, '04, has recently been made a member of the newly formed law firm of Cabell, Ignatius and Lown, with offices at 140 Nassau St., New York. Mr. Lown is a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Plans for First Winter Carnival Promise Relief from Examinations

J. F. Sammis, Professional Skater from Ice Palace, Will Perform with His Partner—Kaleidoscope Will Illuminate Hockey Rink—Freshman Mock Soccer Games on Skates a Feature.

Final preparations have been finished for Hamilton College's first Winter Carnival, which will be held on Friday and Saturday, January 30 and 31. An important last-minute announcement is that of the engagement of J. F. Sammis, head professional fancy and figure skater of the 181st Street Ice Palace in New York City, to give an exhibition in the Russell Sage Building on the night of the Carnival. Mr. Sammis will be assisted by Miss DePierce, his youthful skating partner at the Ice Palace.

Frank H. Robson, Chairman of the Junior Carnival Committee, and his associates, have made arrangements to turn the austere interior of the Hockey Building into a decorated, gay scene by means of colored lights hung along the sides of the rink. A kaleidoscope will also help to add color to the skating. Music for skating will be furnished by Holroyd's Band of Utica.

Another feature of the Carnival will be a stunt presented by the freshman class. The slimers, dressed in weird and fantastical costumes, will put on a soccer game that will alternately thrill and amuse the spectators. The first team that punctures the soccer ball by skating over it will have to forfeit the contest.

All the crowds in college except five will join with the Junior Class in trying to set a precedent of a Winter Carnival at Hamilton, similar to such events as are held annually at Dartmouth, Williams, Colgate, and Cornell. The Dekes, Theta Delts, Lambda Chi Alphas, and Lambda Xi Sigmas will be unable to hold parties.

The leather booklets, which are a combination of program and favor, are on sale today, and may be purchased for the sum of one dollar from members of the Carnival Committee. Members of the Junior Class who have paid the five dollar tax will be presented with one of these programs. The booklets were obtained from the C. H. Elliott Company of Philadelphia.

With the unanimous approval of the Executive Council, the admission rates for the hockey game have been raised from 75c to $1 for unreserved seats, and from $1 to $1.50 for reserved seats. Half of the expenses of the Carnival will be paid for by this slight additional charge; the Junior Class will pay the rest of the expense.

It is requested that all men who are bringing girls will have them on the Hill in time for the basketball game on Friday afternoon.

The program for the first Winter Carnival follows:

Friday

2 P. M. Basketball: St. Stephens, Soper Gymnasium.

3 p. m. Charlatans present "Outward Bound" in the Hall of Commons.

8 p. m. Hockey: Alumni. Russell Sage Building.

10 p. m. Junior Carinval in the Russell Sage Building, followed by dances at the fraternity houses.

Saturday

11 a. m. Coasting, skating and skiing.

2:15 p. m. Musical Club's concert in the Hall of Commons.

Sophomore Hop at the Delta Upsilon House.

8:30 Dances at the fraternity houses.

ALUMNI HOCKEY TEAM TRAINING FOR CONTEST

Reeder, Kaiser, Bates, and Thompson Play in Carnival Game

Among the athletic contests of especial interest which will be fought during Carnival Season is a hockey game between Hamilton's hockey team of the present and a team made up of Hamilton stars of former years. The game is scheduled for Friday evening, January 30.

Although the Alumni players are, geographically, pretty widely scattered, and therefore are unable to get practice with each other, they write that they are training severely for the battle and will be all set to trim us youngsters when the time comes. Whether Hamilton of the past or of the present wins in the encounter, we can expect a good fast game, with plenty of opposition on both sides.

At present, it is not known just how many of the alumni players will be able to adjust their plans so as to be here for the game. On account of exams at Harvard, Bill Marlow, '23, and George Marks, '24, find it impossible to come. As things stand now, the lineup of the "Grads" aggregation is as follows: Dick Reeder, '22, at goal, Dick Kaiser, '20, and Biff Bates, '24, on the defense, Al Kaiser, '21, Watson Thompson, '23, and Bailey Clark, '21, playing the forward line positions, and Burt Price, '23, Charley Seaver, '21, and Babe Reader, '22, as subs.

ST. STEPHENS GAME FEATURE OF CARNIVAL

Annandale Quintet Has Lost to Union and N. Y. U.

With two defeats and two victories to its credit, the Hamilton quintet will meet St. Stephens at Clinton on January 30. The Buff and Blue is out to avenge its treatment at the hands of R. P. I. and Union, and with the added incentive which fair faces always lend, bids fair to repeat its victory of last year when St. Stephens carried the short end of a 29-15 score. The college which is located at Annandale is an institution less than half the size of Hmilton, and is noted for the football teams which it puts out. In basketball, however, it has no one outstanding player; all have shown up equally well this season. St, Stephens has also been put to rout by Union, so no prophecy as to the outcome of the game can be gained from this quarter. In the other game of their schedule already played, St. Stephens was badly defeated by New York University.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY TEAM LOSES TO CLINTON CLUB

The Hamilton freshmen dropped their first game of the season to the Clinton Hockey Club Saturday afternoon on the local rink by a score of 5 to 4. Superior skating gave the victory to the Clinton aggregation.

Williams scored three goals for the visitors, Swartwout the other two. Hassard made the first tally for the freshmen from nearly half the length of the rink. The remaining Hamilton goals were made by Briggs, Heyl and Bald.

Lineup:

GABOON WILL COME OUT ON FRIDAY OF CARNIVAL

According to the advance dope, the Carnival issue of the Gaboon will surpass all its predecessors in originality and excellence of material. The Gaboon will appear on Friday afternoon of Carnival week.

The feature of this issue will be the fine cover by Yuan, '28, and a cross word puzzle submitted by Sanbourne, '27. Yuan's drawing, which is to be in three colors, represents a girl (presumably of the Carnival species) on skis. The black squares of the cross word puzzle will spell the word "carnival," while the blank squares must be filled in by—but the Gaboon does not appear until the 30th. A long skit has been contributed by Fradenburg, '27. Drawings by Soper, '25, Button, '26, and Esch, '26, feature the art work.

M. M. CLUB BRINGS SPEAKER FROM CHINA

James M. Henry, executive secretary of the Canton Christian College, Canton, China, will talk on conditions in China next Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. He is coming here under the auspices of the M. M. Club. Mr. Henry is interested primarily in getting one or two seniors from Hamilton to teach in his school next year. The whole college, however, is cordially invited.

PROF. MORRILL URGES EXERCISE THIS WEEK

Plenty of Sleep Important—Warns Against Excess Eating and Smoking

Professor Morrill in an interview with a Life reporter has offered several suggestions for keeping in good physical condition during the examination period. He stressed the fact that unless the body is in good working order, the brain can not do its best work. Examination time imposes a severer mental and physical strain on the body than any other time of the year. During this time when the student needs it most of all, there is no regular physical training work. Therefore Professor Morrill urged that every student should take outdoor exercise of some kind every day during the examination period.

Professor Morrill's advice for keeping in good condition is: "At least an hour each day should be spent in some exercise. It should not be taken inside but outdoors, as fresh air is of the greatest importance. Walking, snowshoeing, skiing, or hiking is fine. Skating in the hockey rink is all right because it is kept well aired and cooled.

"Don't overeat or oversmoke! Too much to eat and continual smoking during the time of examinations does as much as anything else to prevent a clear mind. Don't overstudy! A good night's sleep is best before an exam. All night cramming for an examination the next day does not pay. A student does better in an examination if he does not try to crowd too much into his memory at the last moment, for by so doing his mind is thrown into a state of confusion and he can remember nothing distinctly."

HAMILTON LOSES TO UNION QUINTET

Buff and Blue Outplayed—Accuracy Gives Garnet Many Points

The fastest Union basketball team in years invaded the Hill last Friday afternoon to defeat Hamilton by a 38-17 score. The visitors, displaying fast floor work and accurate shooting, outplayed the Buff and Blue in every department of the game. Makofski, the speedy Garnet forward, was the star.

Hamilton played hard and put up a fairly close fight during the first part of the opening period. Captain Hatch and Stone kept the Hill men in the running by a couple of timely field goals. In the latter part of the period, however, Union began to draw in the lead. At the end of the first half the score stood 17-11 in favor of the invaders from Schenectady.

In the last period the visiting quintet showed a strong attack and a very close defense. Makofski and Fink broke away from their guards time after time to cage field goals for the Union team. The Buff and Blue were unable to stop the speedy passing assault of the Garnet. When the game ended the score stood 38-17 with the Hill boys on the losing end.

The lineup was:

UNION		HAMILTON
	right forward
Ripton		Payne
	left forward
Bednowitz		Stone center
O'Neil		Hatch, capt.
	right guard
Stanley, capt.		Howk
	left guard
Fink		Esch

Hamilton scoring: field goals, Hatch 3, Stone 3. Fouls goals, Payne 2, Stone 2, Hatch 1. Union scoring: Field goals Bednowitz 1, O'Neil 2, Fink 5, Skane 1, Makofski 6. Foul goals, Ripton 1, Bednowitz 3, O'Neil 1, Fink 1, Makofski 2. Substitutions: Hamilton: Burns for Esch, Thomas for Howk. Union: Leifheit for Fink, Skane for Stanley, Maybe for O'Neil, Makofski for Ripton. Referee: Murnane.

FACULTY SAYS GIRLS SHOULD NOT SMOKE

Hamilton Professors State Opinions on Question of Smoking by College Girls

THEIR VIEWS LIBERAL

Disapprove Excessive Use of Weed by Either Sex

"Do you approve of smoking by college girls?"

Twelve members of the faculty of the college were asked by a Life reporter to state their opinions of this question. Four registered decided disapproval, three disapproved, but less emphatically, one was absolutely neutral, and four declined to be quoted.

With Carnival not far away the question takes on an added interest. Some men may be expected to furnish Pall Malls or Camels for their girls, others perhaps cigars. Faculties of women's colleges have been compelled to make strict rules concerning smoking by students. At Smith every girl is not only forbidden to smoke, but is also on her honor to report any cases of smoking among her friends.

"Smoking," said President Ferry, "seems to me rightly counted of questionable benefit to those who are past the period of college years and of more or less harm to all those of school and college age. Accordingly I count it an undesirable habit for all undergraduates. It does not appear to me particularly reprehensible on moral or ethical grounds but unwise and unwarranted from the standpoint of common sense until at least the time of growth is over. Probably one should still know better and eschew it forever, but some of us do not."

Young Men Have Influence

Dr. Squires thinks that the question should have been put to a group of students instead of to the professors. "It makes no difference what I or any other member of the faculty of Hamilton College may think about girls smoking cigarettes. But it will make with the cigarette-smoking girl a tremendous difference as to what ten of the typical students of Hamilton College may think about the subject. Party girls do not look to the members of any college faculty for their ideals in such matters. They will smoke, if their student friends here think it is smart, up to date, daring. If the smoking fashion be frowned upon by the right sort of young men, that will end the obsession."

Dean Saunders said, "Smoking for either boys or girls is just like drinking for boys and girls. They are things that sensible-minded young people have to learn to control themselves about. The time has not yet come when girls' colleges and universities can permit smoking, but the question of whether one approves of it in individual cases depends on the circumstances."

Professor Ibbotson stopped classifying some new additions to the library to be interviewed. "Smoking in itself is neither good nor bad. I am sufficiently old fashioned, however, to feel that smoking may detract from the charm of so very young a person as a college girl. If it offends her conscience, she should not do it. She should not do it enough to impair her health. Most young men think more highly of a girl if she does not do it."

"I believe that a girl who smokes loses more than she gains," said Professor Lewis. "She gains something in smartness. When she becomes addicted to the habit, she doubtless enjoys it, just as a man does. It harms her physically, doctors say, more than it does men. She loses something of the regard of most older people and of many young men and women. She is usually credited, rightly or wrongly, with an inclination to do other sporty things. The smoking habit handicaps a girl who seeks employment in many of the occupations open to women. Many girl smokers are careful to conceal the fact that they smoke. Why do they do this?"

Dr. Bonham

Dr. Bonham believes that if a man can smoke, a woman can. "Though an occasional user of the weed myself," he said, "I think it is at best a useless and expensive habit. At worst, if begun too young, it may become a health-wrecking one. If a man smokes, I see no reason why a woman should not. So if a college boy smokes, it is quite as correct for a college girl to do so if she wants to. But what I am

A New Fraternity House.

Theta Delta Chi is to be congratulated on its new house. It is a dignified and comfortable building, worthy of the group of men who are to occupy it. With the Deke House, it makes the second new fraternity house to grace the campus this year.

The standard of living at Hamilton and at every college and university is constantly improving. Fraternities that used to live in boarding houses on the village park, with a mile and a half to walk back and forth every day, now have beautiful houses on the campus. Of course these improvements add to the expense of college life and one of the fine features of Hamilton College is that the cost of educating oneself here is comparatively moderate. Other fraternities are planning improvements which will add to the attractiveness of the college, but we believe that the advance will be at a reasonable pace and that Hamilton will always appeal primariy to young men of moderate means.

A Birthday.

Next Thursday is Dr. Ferry's birthday. Most of the men on this Hill do not know that the President is passing a milestone this week; some of them know little about him, because he never goes out of his way to attract attention. Everyone, however, has encountered Dr. Ferry's warm greeting on the campus and heard his clear-cut voice in Chapel. Everyone who sees how the College is growing in size and power and how the members of the College community work harmoniously together has a high respect for the President's administrative talents. The men know that he is always ready to help them out of their difficulties. They are certain that the traditions of the College are safe in his hands and that under his leadership Hamilton has a glorious future. They will join us in wishing him many happy birthdays.

D. P.

Our Precious Opportunity.

In the current "Atlantic Monthly" F. S. Broun tells how he prepared for college. One day he was plowing on his father's farm and the plow hit against a rock and just then he thought he heard a voice say, "Why don't you go to college?" He was an unusual boy who read everything he could get his hands on. He read Grote's "History of Greece" in 10 volumes, his first book from the rural library, and all the other books he could find. At 15 he had gone as far as the country school would take him, which was only to the end of grammar school. The next two years he spent in reading. After talking about Greek mythology with a student from Ann Arbor he felt a great desire to study Greek in the original. He thought about it so much that when he heard his subconscious mind ask him why he did not go to college, he decided to go.

He sent for a college catalogue and decided that he could prepare for college in a year. He bought the books mentioned in the requirements out of money he made through contributions for the country section of a neighboring newspaper. He laid out a schedule for himself. He could only study at night after the farm work was done, and on rainy days and Sundays. He divided the beginning Latin book into equal parts, one part to be done every day. It happened that he had grouped all the verb conjugations into two days. He learned them, however, in the two days. He read Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil, all in eleven months. All of his preparation he completed in this eleven months. Greek was easier for him than Latin, so he finished the "Anabasis" before Virgil was completed. Most of the Greek verbs he learned by writing them on pieces of paper at night and memorizing them during the day. In the same phenomenal way he taught himself algebra and geometry, history and English. Broun took the entrance examinations of a Western state university and passed them. He then worked his way through the university.

The remarkable thing about this story, besides the wonder of the amount of work he did in a short time, is the desire he had for a college education, a desire which inspired him to sacrifice all his holidays and his evenings, often until the small hours of the morning, in order to accomplish his preparation. It should make us value our college opportunity more than we do. If a man will work like that for a chance to go to college, the four undergraduate years must be very precious to him.

D. P.

Activities.

"In England you go to the university to develop yourself, while in America you go to the university to distinguish yourself. In America a boy is always trying to attain some outward sign of achievement, to make the college paper, to make one of the clubs or fraternities, to make the football team." Thus William Robson, a student of the London School of Economics who has spent five months in America, compares our colleges with those of England. The quotation is from a recent issue of "The New Student."

Perhaps it is true that American students should take more interest in scholarship. The boy, however, who has learned to maintain a good standard of scholarship and at the same time accomplish something for the glory of his college, has had a valuable training. In active life a successful business or professional man cannot confine himself exclusively to his own line of work. Part of his time he must give to his community, or church, or to some other interest. A college which aims to teach men how to live should not neglect extra-curricular pursuits.

PRESS BOARD ELECTIONS

The members of the Press Board met last Wednesday morning after chapel for the purpose of electing new members. Upon the recommendation of Lawrence Wood, '25, the chairman of the board, they elected Albert R. Fulton, '26, to membership by a unanimous vote. Wood also stated that, of the sophomore competitors, Frederic S. Marquardt and Eben C. Brink had done the best work so far. They also were unanimously elected members of the board. The next vote on the sophomore competitors will take place at Easter vacation time.

Carpe Diem

Ev'n as we speak, grim Time speeds swift away;
Seize now and here the hour that is, nor trust some later day!
Horace, Odes, I, II.

Dear Carpe:

I am offering a pair of hob nail skis to anyones who guesses these FAMOUS MEN by their FAMOUS SAYINGS. If you need the skis, better get busy!

"We're all men together."
(With botttle) "That was you coughing, wasn't it?"
"Now, men, I'm not sure, but I think....."
".....morass of mediocrity....."
(Tap, tap, tap) "More quiet, please."
"Now ten years ago, there sat in that very seat...."
"Some of you, gentlemen, are nearing the home stretch."
"I have five aces. What have you?" or ...."When I was principal...."
"Next time we will pause for a review."
"You will kindly report to the dean on ...."
"They don't answer."
"Please don't lean back in the chairs."

SCHMALTZ.

Carpe has noticed this week that things are not what they should be around the campus. Due to something impending threateningly in the near future, there seems to be a general frenzy of absentmindness prevalent. In respect to absentmindedness, Sid Britten is living up to his reputation. Carpe was in the Deke House the other night when orchestras were under discussion. Some of the fellows there seemed to think that Vincent Lopez' orchestra was pretty mean, but Sid thought differently, and said, "There are lots of good orchestras drifting about, but for heavenly jazz none of 'em can beat Walt Whitman's."

A senior last Wednesday saw a freshman sobbing as if his heart would break out in the street. The senior went up to him and said, "Wht is the matter, little boy?"

Whereupon the freshman answered, "Boo hoo, I've bought a Royal Gaboon and now I am afraid to take it home!"

News Item

One of the workmen on the new building last Tuesday rode Prexy's sled down Hill.

Doc Hiler, '28, was giving an extemporaneous dinky dec. During it he came forth with this brilliant statement ".....because foreigners usually moan for a few days after they are dead."

Carpe notices that some of the Juniors are dissatisfied. They wish that Cal would allow a few speakers to use the Third Party question for discussions.

Doc Thomas (in Poli. Sci. 1) "Fletcher, what is meant by the 'check and balance system'?"

Fletcher (after racking brains) "Oh, isn't that about weights and measures?"

Rather Premature!

Doc Thomas: "If a father brings a son, born in China in 1879, to America in 1871, is this boy eligible to vote for president?"

Carpe has been asked to call to the attention of the college that a new club or society has been formed which, the members feel, is destined to play a large part in the activities of the college. It is the Goat Society. It is rumored that Alec Soper is president of the new club, and that Benny Aitken is his right hand man. It already boasts a membership of seven or eight. The latest pledge to the society is Ernie Button. The members are planning a smashing campaign.

A Party Hint

My fairy dancing
Heart entrancing
Blue eyes sweetheart girl,
My soul's adoring,
Thoughts are soaring,
I love each pretty curl.

Your warm lips thrill me,
Love throbs fill me
When they're pressed to mine.
And when we're parted
I'm so downhearted!
Now, how do you like my line?

LAST YEAR'S ANNUAL FOR SALE BY SENIORS

Pi Delta Epsilon held a meeting last Tuesday evening at the E. L. S. House, following the fraternity meetings. At this meeting the principal business transacted was a discussion of the financial state of the 1925 Hamiltonian Board. It was planned to sell copies of the 1925 Hamiltonian to members of the senior class who desire it, for one dollar a copy. A number of seniors have already signified their intention of purchasing one, some intending to present it to their Carnival girls. A tax of one dollar for the further defrayment of expenses is also to be levied on each senior. Members of the other classes who desire to obtain copies of that yearbook can do so on payment of three dollars. Every effort will be made to prevent seniors from reselling Hamiltonians to members of the three lower classes. The Hamiltonian tax upon the seniors is the lowest that it has been in many years, the tax three years ago being something like $25 a man.

The last issue of the Royal Gaboon also came up for considerable discussion. Jack Hatch, '25, the editor, announced that his staff would follow a more conservative policy in the future, although a number of young alumni had told him they believed the Gaboon should be "pepped up a bit."

The next meeting of Pi Delta Epsilon will be held on February 10 at the Lambda Chi Alpha House.

FROSH HOCKEY TEAM MEETS NICHOLS SCHOOL IN FEB.

Following the custom set for several years, a freshman hockey team was formed at the beginning of the season and has been practising regularly and making a good showing. The team consists of Briggs, center; Ingalls, left wing; Beardsley, right wing; Hassard, right defense; Bald, left defense, and Warner, goal guard. Watters has been substituting for Ingalls, and Heyl for Beardsley in the wing positions.

Other freshmen who have shown up well on the squad are Hamlin, McPhail, Weber, Bradley, Strong, Jones, Holley and Donaldson. These form a second team which may be counted on to furnish substitutes.

Manager Freeman has a tentative schedule arranged. The first game will be with Nichols School of Buffalo the first part of February.

—The Rev. Charles A. Hawley, S. T. M., Ph.D., '16, is the author of a religious book recently published, entitled "The Teaching of the Prophets," which has been highly praised by "The Christian Century." Mr. Hawley is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and E. L. S.

—News has recently been received at the college of the death of Rev. William Henry Bates, D.D., '65, at Greeley, Colo., last August. He was an ordained minister from 1869-1917. Since the latter date, he has been engaged in preaching and literary work while residing at Greeley. Mr. Bates was a member of Delta Upsilon and Phi Beta Kappa.

—Word has been received of the death of Edwin Chester Hawley, ex-'01, during last summer at the hands of Chinese junkmen in Wauhsien, China. Mr. Hawley entered Hamilton in the class of 1901 but transferred to Amherst after his freshman year. For a time he was an ordained minister, serving in China. He returned to this country, however, during the Great War. After the war he returned to China to take up a position with a British export firm at Wauhsien, where he died last year. Mr. Hawley was a member of Delta Upsilon.

—Irving N. Gere, '84, died Jan. 11 at his home in Syracuse. He was a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

BRANDT'S DICTIONARY APPEARS NEXT SPRING

German Company Will Publish Book of Late Hamilton Professor—Profits Benefit Library

The German dictionary compiled by the late Hermann G. K. Brandt, former professor of German at Hamilton, will appear this spring. At the time of Dr. Brandt's death the publication of this work was very uncertain. Not until 1922, was it at all certain that this masterpiece, upon which the German professor had spent over 20 years of careful research, would ever be put in print. This work was not simply compiled from other dictionaries; it gradually grew from years of scrupulous reading, and constant searching of the best German literature, where he looked for words that might possibly have been overlooked by the authors of other works. A New York publishing company had accepted the work for publication many years ago, because of Professor Brandt's wide reputation. Just before the war, the copy was accepted, and sent to Leipzig for publication, since it is so difficult to find men in this country with a sufficient knowledge of both English and German to set such a work. Proof for half the book had been completed, when the work was suspended by the war measures of the British government, who was preventing trade with Germany. In 1919 at the end of the war, the firm which had undertaken the publication, informed Professor Brandt that they would not hold to their agreement and publish the book, unless he stood the cost of publication. At the time of the professor's death, there seemed to be no prospect that his most important work of scholarship would ever see the light.

Delayed by War

After his father's death, Frederick F. Brandt, '04, Dr. Brandt's son, received a letter from the printing firm in Leipzig inquiring whether there was any prospect that the dictionary would be published. They reported that some 400 pages of the book which had been set up in 1914, were still standing in type, since they realized the value of the work, and did not wish that the scholar's years of research should go for naught. Mr. Brandt referred the matter to the librarian of the college and promised that all ultimate profits that might be derived from the sale of the book, if published, should be added to the memorial to his father in the college library.

After futilely corresponding with various American publishers, and attempting to secure the publication of the dictionary by the College, Dr. Ibbotson arranged with G. S. Stechert and Co., publishers of linguistic works in several languages, to put out the dictionary. The serious problem of proof reading was solved by the interest of Prof. Hauch, and the valuable assistance of Dr. Ilse Kiessling of the University of Leipzig.

In spite of delays, the dictionary, long awaited, will doubtless be on the market this coming spring. It is a volume of nearly 1,000 pages, octavo, and is set in unusually clear and legible type. The price of the work, bound in cloth, has been set by the publisher at $3.00.

COLLEGE CHOIR PLANS CONCERT IN SYRACUSE

The College Choir will give a concert February 16 at the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Syracuse. No announcement can be made as to the program that will be rendered on that occasion, as it has not been definitely decided upon as yet. Professor Fancher has announced that the choir is to appear at the concert in their new vestments. If the weather is good at that time, it is planned to motor to Syracuse. Advance reports indicate that a large crowd will attend this concert. After the program has been given, the choir will be entertained by members of the church with a buffet supper.

As previously announced, plan have also been made for two other choir concerts: one in Huntington, L .I., and the other in Bridgeport, Conn. These plans, even at this early stage in the season with a prospect of several more concerts, constitute a more extensive schedule for the choir than it has ever had before.

DAVENPORT RESIGNS FROM THE FACULTY

Election to Congress Necessitates Resignation—Given Cup by Senior Class

Dr. Frederick C. Davenport's resignation from the Faculty was accepted, with regrets, at the last meeting of that body. When, last fall, he was elected member from this district in the House of Representatives, it was obvious that Dr. Davenport would have to give up the professorship of law, which he has held for the past 21 years. After graduating from Wesleyan in the class of 1889, Dr. Davenport, in 1904, accepted the Maynard-Knox Chair of Law and Civil Polity at Hamilton. In 1917 Wesleyan University rewarded Dr. Davenport with the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

This latest honor of election to Congress comes as a new step in a career replete with successes. Dr. Davenport has served four successive terms as Republican representative in the New York State Senate. Under Roosevelt he ran as Progressive candidate for Governor, and has since been mentioned prominently for that office.

On Wednesday night a farewell dinner was tendered to Professor Davenport at the Faculty Club. On Saturday morning the Senior Class presented to its retiring professor a loving cup, with this inscription: Presented to Representative F. M. Davenport by the Class of 1925 of Hamilton College, January 17, 1925. Through its president, A. R. Thompson, the class expressed its esteem and appreciation of Dr. Davenport. In replying, he said that through his contact with Hamilton men he had received more benefit than he had given, and expressed keen regret at leaving.

SPORT JABS

Despite the large cut which Coach Gelas made in the fencing squad last week, that sport remains the most popular of any of the winter activities. More than 50 men including 20 freshmen, are reporting for regular work.

Coach Prettyman showed that he is not particularly bothered by superstitions when he added Bald to the varsity hockey squad, making a total of 13 men.

The largest yearling hockey squad in the history of the college turned out last week when 19 freshmen reported to Coach Carroll for the initial practice.

The saber team still remains the big riddle to the fencing enthusiasts. Five or six men have shown up equally well and Coach Gelas is going to have quite a job picking his team.

From the showing made by Packer in the recent meet at New York and of the rest of the men in practice, it appears as though Hamilton would be represented by a real foils team again this year.

FROSH BASKETBALL SCHEDULE PLANNED

Coach Prettyman and Assistant Manager Nichols have practically decided upon a schedule of games for the freshman basketball team. Some difficulty was experienced because of the fact that the varsity schedule is not fully completed and nothing could be done until it had been arranged for.

So far, games have been arranged with New Hartford on the 16th of February at New Hartford, and with Little Falls on Feb. 27 at Little Falls. The three other games are to be booked for sometime during the same month. These three will be chosen from the following: Whitesboro, Mohawk, Canastota, Sherrill and Utica Free Academy. It is expected that the U. F. A. game will be a preliminary to the Colgate game with the varsity.

The present lineup for the freshman team is as follows: Leich, lf; Alison, rf; Searles, c; Stackhouse, capt., lg; Fitzgerald, rg. After this term it is expected that several of the ineligibles will have made up their work sufficiently to play with the regulars. From this group the most likely to displace members of the regular team are Rowley and Worboys.

So far, the ineligibles have defeated the freshman team in practice regularly. It is hoped that several other men will pass off their conditions this term.

—"Duke" Thompson, '24, was on the Hill Saturday. He is at Columbia.

CHARLATANS GIVE UTICA PERFORMANCE

"Outward Bound" was presented for the second time by the Charlatans in the New Century Club Auditorium last Friday evening before a most enthusiastic audience. Dancing followed the performance.

The acting was marked by the same earnestness and sympathetic interpretation which was shown in the Clinton performance. Those in the cast are Coburn P. Goodwin, Owen A. Roberts, Fred E. Draper; Frank H. Robson, Burke I. Burke, W. Townsend Donnelly, Glenn B. Snyder, Charles H. Anthony, and George H. Perrine. Professor Paul A. Fancher is responsible for coaching the players. "Outward Bound" will be given in the Hall of Commons, Friday afternoon, Jan. 30, as part of the Carnival program.

The Charlatans are planning a trip to Brooklyn and Albany with their present production. This trip will probably take place either the first or second weekend in February. The actual date will be announced later in Life.

With the beginning of the second term, work in the Little Theater Workshop will commence in earnest. "Outward Bound" has occupied the attention of the Charlatans through most of this term, and not much time has been available for experimenting with student writing. Several short plays may be presented some time in the new term.

Shortly before Easter try-outs for a new long play will be held so that the production may be put well under way as soon as the vacation is ended.

trying to get at is that I prefer that neither men nor women should smoke till after they leave college. In the case of those who never go to college, then not till they are, say, 22 years old. By then they will have attained sufficient physical maturity for moderate smoking not to hurt them, and in most cases, sufficient intellectual maturity and strength of character not to smoke to excess. For these reasons I disapprove of smoking by both boys and girls till after the 'plastic age'."

"I am completely neutral," said Dr. Hauch, "even in thought, on this burning issue. They can eat Limburger cheese if they want to."

Dr. Erskine was also non-committal. "I am inclined," he said, "neither to approve or disapprove. If college girls insist on smoking, there is little the rest can do to stop them, so why get excited about it? As a non-smoker, however, I should be tempted to ask them what good they thought it would do them."
